Innovation and tradition since 1949 – a successful family-owned company already managed by the third generation. This success, which we are, of course, very proud of, did not come out of the blue. The foundation of our corporate philosophy is in striving to lead our customers to success with our services. Here, continual, collaborative cooperation is our objective.

Our trained employees deal with our customers' projects in depth in order to attain perpetual improvement through consistent implementation. Our competence in materials and experience with technology helps us and our customers to ensure sustainable success.

We wish to expand our market position in Europe with constant growth. To this end, we are developing our delivery range further and optimising our processes with capable partners in various sectors. Furthermore, we rely on motivated and qualified personnel and their continual support in order to live up to this high standard of quality we place on ourselves.
